

BECKETT FARMS

GLASTONBURY
CONNECTICUT

Beckett Farms was established in Glastonbury in 1973. Chip's father bought the Old Cider Mill and Chip worked at the farm through college. After college, Chip Returned full time to open his own veterinary practice and help out with the farm. In 1985, Chip bought the property next door to Beckett Farms to build his practice, Beckett and Associates . Beckett Farms sells to stands and over the past few years, has begun participating in the local farmers markets. Chips daughter, Leah, now works on the farm as well. Today, Beckett Farms is one of Connecticut's biggest local farmers providing a variety of lettuce, blueberries, beets, sugar snap peas ,summer squash and zucchini.
