

FAIR WEATHER ACRES

ROCKY HILL
CONNECTICUT

Fair Weather Acres was originally a wholesale vegetable grower for peppers in 1988 started by husband and wife, Chris and Mary Collins, and son, Billy. When Fair Weather Acres became a huge success for the Collins family they started growing their favorite, green beans. The farm began selling at farmers markets and grocery stores all over New England. Fair weather Acres moved to Cromwell Avenue in Rocky Hill in 1997 and now produces a large variety of vegetables, pumpkins and plants.
